1989

The 3rd Meeting of the IPC Held

The 3rd Meeting of the IPC for the 13th WFYS was held in Berlin, capital of the GDR over November 23-27 last year.

It was attended by 402 representatives of 138 National Preparatory Committees, national organizations, 39 regional and international youth and student organizations representing 105 countries and West-Berlin as well as by a number of observers.

Erich Honecker, Secretary General of the Central Committee of the Socialist Unity Party of Germany and Chairman of the State Council of the German Democratic Republic, made a congratulatory speech at the opening session.

In the speech, he touched upon the fact that the German Democratic Republic hosted the WFYS two times successfully and spoke about the festival movement and the present international situation.

Noting that the World Festival of Youth and Students would be held in an Asian country in 1989 for the first time, he stressed this was of great significance in deepening the mutual understanding among the young people of all continents and strengthening solidarity and unity in action among them and had this to say:

Proposals of the DPRK for the relaxation of tension on the Korean peninsula as well as for the creation of a nuclear-free zone are constructive ones drawing deep attention of the world and enjoying our active support and encouragement.

The efforts of the DPRK for easing tension on the Korean peninsula, dialogue between the north and the south and the peaceful and democratic reunification prove that the DPRK has an attitude not harmful to anybody but useful to everybody.

The world youth handed over the relay baton of the festival to Pyongyang and the League of Socialist Working Youth of Korea.

Thus, the youth of your fraternal people who are recognized in due respect by the world for their heroic feats in rehabilitation and construction have become the sponsor of the festival.

Under the leadership of Comrade Kim Il Sung, our friend and comrade-in-arms, the Korean people have rehabilitated everything which had been severely destroyed in the war of aggression ignited by the imperialists, constructed the powerful economy and registered unimaginable achievements through a socialist programme.

It is a well-known fact that the Korean people and youth are making great efforts to become a good sponsor of the World Festival of Youth and Students, the first of its kind on the Asian continent.

Conditions are being created for wide-range and democratic meetings of the Festival participants.

He said that those who visit the DPRK these days will vividly imagine what hospitality will be accorded to the world youth in Korea next year and he emphasised like this:

New buildings for the festival add to the beauty of Pyongyang.

Pyongyang, the capital city of a prospering socialist country, gives deeper impressions than usual.

We wish the Korean people and youth most excellent successes in preparations for and holding of the 13th WFYS.

The DPRK will always enjoy an active solidarity

The Third Meeting of the International Preparatory Committee for the 13th WFYS is held from the German Democratic Republic, especially the new generations.

Concluding the speech, he explained how preparation for the festival was going on in the GDR and wished the success of the Third Meeting of the International Preparatory Committee for the 13th

WFYS.

At the meeting, the Provisional Working Group delivered a report on the basic proposal for the 13th WFYS program and Treasurer of the International Solidarity Fund also made a report.

Speeches were made by Choe Ryong Hae, Chairman of the C.C. of the League of Socialist Working Youth of Korea and the Korean Preparatory Committee of the 13th WFYS, and by some delegates from national preparatory committees for the festival and international and regional organizations.

Speaking about the significance of the 13th WFYS to be held for the first time in Asian continent, they stressed that the youth and students of five continents should take active part in the Pyongyang Festival transcending the differences of ideology, political view and religious belief under the slogan, "Anti-Imperialist Solidarity, Peace and Friendship".

Noting that the preparatory work for the 13th WFYS is being made briskly in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, its host country, they expressed their warm congratulations and deep thanks to the Korean youth and students who are trying their best for it.

The meeting discussed exchange of opinions on the progress of preparation for the Festival, the basic proposal for the Festival program, organization of the Permanent Committee of the IPC and the place and the date of the Fourth Meeting of the IPC.

Adopted at the meeting was the final communique of the IPC for the 13th WFYS.

The meeting decided to hold the Fourth Meeting of the IPC from March 30 to April 3, 1989 in Pyongyang, capital of the DPRK.

Following the closing session, the meeting of the Permanent Committee of the IPC was convened.

Chairman of the Central Committee of the League of Socialist Working Youth of Korea and the Korean Preparatory Committee for the 13th WFYS and First Secretary of Central Committee of the Free German Youth who is Chairman of the National Preparatory Committee of the GDR had jointly a press conference in connection with the successful holding of the meeting.

Final Communique of the 3rd IPC Meeting

1. The 3rd meeting of the International Preparatory Committee for the 13th World Festival of Youth and Students was held in Berlin, capital of the GDR from November 23-27, 1988. It was attended by 402 representatives of 138 National Preparatory Committees, national organizations, 39 regional and international youth and student organizations representing 105 countries and West-Berlin as well as by a number of observers.
2. The opening ceremony of the 3rd meeting of the IPC was addressed by Erich Honecker, Secretary General of the CC of the Socialist Unity Party of Germany and Chairman of the State Council of the German Democratic Republic. He expressed the great attachment of the people of the GDR and its youth to the ideals of the festival movement.
3. The meeting took place in an atmosphere of open and constructive dialogue and provided a useful platform for exchanging information and views regarding all aspects of the further development of the festival movement, in the preparations for the 13th WFYS.
4. The meeting took note of the information presented on the proceedings of the Provisional Working Group between the 2nd and 3rd IPC and appreciated the work accomplished by the PWG in accordance with the mandate given by the 2nd IPC. The participants welcomed the proposals and recommendations presented in the report of the NPC of Algeria on the work of the PWG to the 3rd IPC meeting.
5. The participants took also note of the information presented by the Treasurer for the International Solidarity Fund on the work done since the 2nd IPC. They underlined the importance of a broad assistance to this fund and urged the NPCs and all organizations to step up their efforts to contribute to it, within their own capacity and possibilities.
6. The participants had a broad and useful exchange of information on the continuing preparatory process for the 13th WFYS on the national and international level, particularly since the 2nd IPC meeting in India in May 1988. They welcomed the formation of further National Preparatory Committees in many countries, the holding of different events and initiatives towards the festival, in which a broad variety of youth and student organizations are involved. The participants spoke out for a further broad and manifold preparatory work, they particularly urged the establishment of NPCs in those countries where they don't yet exist. In this regard the participants underlined that in the preparatory process the equality of NPCs, the non-interference into internal affairs of the national preparatory work should be fully respected.
7. The participants expressed their commitment to the future of the festival movement. The future of the World Festival of Youth and Students should be based on the adaption of its political content to the changing political climate in the world, taking into account the rich traditions acquired in the past. The participants were of the understanding that the development of the contents, size, methods and forms of future World Festivals must be based on dialogue, openness and political broadness. Thus the democratic preparatory process must be strengthened.

Ideas expressed included:

The festival should become more and more a broad platform of exchange of views, ideas, experiences and potentially joint actions,

- that includes ever broader forces of democracy and progress,
- be more youthlike and reflect their concerns,
- continue to function on the common will, democratic principles, understanding, consultations, respect to the various political, ideological, religious tendencies comprising the festival movement and the decision making on the basis of consensus,
- to carry the festival to various continents and parts of the world.

Taking note of the discussions that took place during the 3rd IPC on the future of the festivals and the festival movement the participants decided to call upon all NPCs, national, regional and international organizations to continue these discussions in bilateral and multilateral forms as well as informal meetings. The 3rd IPC agreed to continue the elaboration of relevant recommendations on these discussions before the 13th WFYS, in particular on the venue of the 14th WFYS.

8. On the basis of the results of the work of the PWG forwarded to the 3rd IPC extensive discussion took place with regard to the programme of the 13th WFYS. With regard to the political contents of the festival programme the participants recalled the results of the 1st IPC, namely regarding the festival slogan "For Anti-Imperialist Solidarity, Peace and Friendship" and the message to youth and students of the world adopted at the 12th WFYS in Moscow, as well as the respective agreements from the 2nd IPC meeting on the general guidelines for the festival programme.

9. The participants agreed that the programme should, in accordance with the positive experience acquired at previous festivals, particularly the 12th WFYS in Moscow, provide the framework for deep and diversified discussions and exchanges of views in an open and democratic manner on the various topics of concern for the different youth and student organizations. It should, as agreed at the 2nd IPC, be of a broad and universal character attractive to young people of all the broadest possible political, social, religious and philosophical orientations and reflect the best values of the festival movement, the best experiences of the 12th Festival, the changes which are taking place in the international situation and the ideal of the festival slogan "For Anti-Imperialist Solidarity, Peace and Friendship".

10. The meeting agreed that during the days of the festival the following themes should comprehensively reflect the issues of concern among youth and students:

- Opening of the festival
- Youth and Students for peace, disarmament, a nuclear-weapon-free world, security, against chemical weapons and any other kind of weapons of mass destruction
- Youth and Students for anti-imperialist solidarity, national liberation, independence, sovereignty and national self-determination, social progress, democracy and human dignity

 - Religious youth and students
15. The festival programme will also include various thematic mass activities as well as rallies of solidarity with the peoples, youth and students of different regions, and countries.
16. The IPC supported the idea to hold various meetings of special interest groups during the festival.
17. Further important elements of the festival programme will be formed by the cultural programme and the sports programme including discussions on these subjects.
The National Clubs will be places for the participants of the festival and the youth of the host country for meeting and discussing the national experiences of youth and student organizations in various countries, their political, social and cultural life.
18. The meeting agreed that the KPC works out a programme of the host country and that they ensure the participants can meet and develop dialogue with different groups of youth and students in the DPRK.

19. The participants elected a Permanent Commission in accordance with the traditions of the festival movement (see Annex), and agreed on its precise functions and mandate. For the international preparatory process till the 13th WFYS the PC will, on the basis of the decisive sovereign role of the IPC in the decision making process, act for the execution of the IPC decisions. The PC in its work should closely associate itself with all NPCs and interested organizations and particularly cooperate with the NPC of the host country. The host country shall make all appropriate technical and communication facilities available for the PC. The PC will ensure an open and democratic practice in its methods of work on the basis of consensus which is regarded as a form of search for widely acceptable agreement in the spirit of a constructive approach towards the traditions of the festival movement, its main goals and objectives. The PC in formulating its work it should work against the background of the broad views of opinions existing within the IPC and fully take them into account.

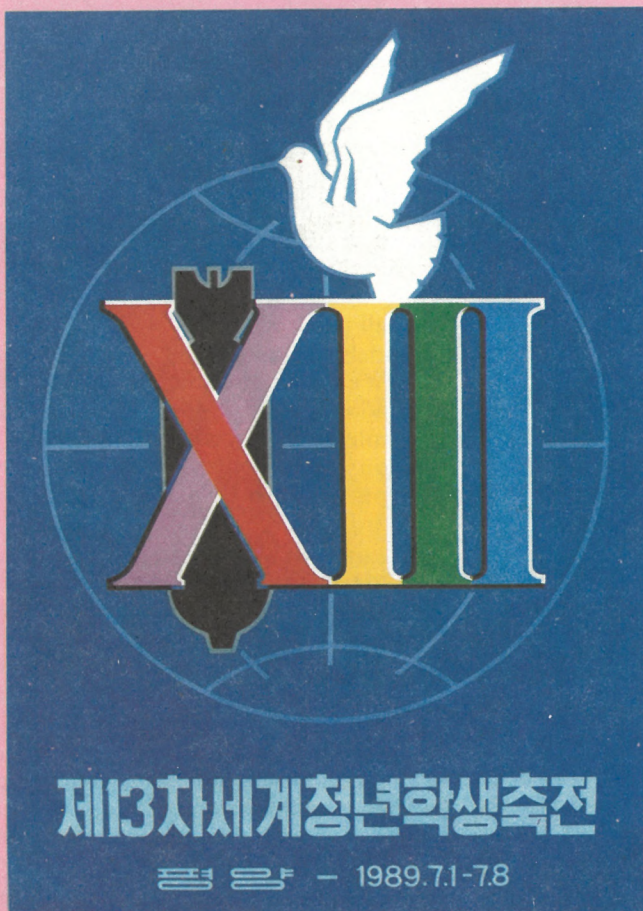

20. The PC should:

- assist and stimulate the preparatory process for the festival on all levels, contribute to its coordination, providing it with indispensable elements serving its advancement,
